Go See The Addams Family, Snap, Snap!

RHS Musical Is a Must See This Weekend

RHS musical The Addams Family opened last weekend and continues tonight and tomorrow. If you haven’t already seen this delightful play, cancel your plans and go. Directed by RHS Acting Teacher Sherry Cox and produced by Deirdre Basile and Alison Smolin, the show is Broadway-caliber and family friendly.

RHS seniors (shown right) Emily P. as Morticia, and Evan S. as Gomez, lead a talented cast in this comedic mash-up of Romeo and Juliet and Meet the Parents — Addams family-style. With a backdrop of fantastic sets, imaginative costumes, and a live orchestra conducted by RHS Music Teacher, Kevin Haines, the show is flawless. Rico Froehlich, RHS graduate 2017, choreographed the remarkable dance numbers.

The music, including the theme “bah da da dump—snap! snap!” is iconic, and the characters — Uncle Fester, Wednesday, Grandma, Lurch, and Pugsley, backed by the Ancestor chorus—all make for a great show.

Tickets go on sale at the door at 6:30 the night of the performance or buy tickets online here.

School of Fish at Farmingville
Farmingville is ‘swimming’ with accomplishments, growth, and taking chances. Every child, teacher, and staff member created their own ceramic fish, inspired by the book Only One You by Judith Kranz. Copies of the book are available throughout the school for all to enjoy. This special school of clay fish swims around FES to remind us all to take risks and grow. RES Partners with RFD
Ridgebury Elementary School Principal Jamie Palladino and Ridgefield Fire Department started a partnership to help make students safer. The firefighters shown greeting students in the picture to the right will return to RES frequently. Palladino notes that the regular contact between students and the RFD will mean that the students will become more comfortable with first responders and better prepared in the event of an emergency.
